

Focus on First Street Alehouse

As one of the first local restaurants to participate in the organics program, the First Street Alehouse enjoys reduced garbage costs. Clearly labeled collection bins for recyclables and organic materials are located throughout the restaurant and are used appropriately by Alehouse staff.

Approximately 85% of the waste created at the Alehouse is recycled or composted. By keeping their garbage collection needs down, the restaurant saves over $1,600 per month.

To see what's on tap at the Alehouse, visit www.firststreetalehouse.com.

Did you know? The First Street Alehouse also utilizes compostable takeout containers. Leading the way to eliminate the use of styrofoam containers, they already comply with the City of Livermore's styrofoam ban which becomes effective July 1.

"Working with Livermore Sanitation really makes it easy to properly do away with all our garbage, organics and recyclables. It gives us a great sense of doing our part."

Keep Plant Debris Out of the Garbage

Alameda County law now prohibits the disposal of green waste in county landfills including the Vasco Road Landfill and Altamont Landfill. Avoid potential fines by separating green waste like grass clippings, leaves, shrubs, vines, and branches from garbage.

For more information about the landfill ban, visit www.StopWaste.org or call 1-888-893-9929.
